Editor's Message

Our next meeting is Wednesday, AUGUST 5, 2015 AT 7 P.M. (DOORS OPEN 6 P.M.)! Mike Hollingshead is our education speaker, and his topic is Republic of Khalistan — Its Banknotes and the Canadian Connection. Sikh nationalists have long sought an autonomous homeland on the Indian sub-continent. Betrayed by the British and The Congress Party of Nehru's daughter Indira Gandhi, their battles became more militant, especially after Operation Blue Star which desecrated their most holy temple in Amritsar. Come out to hear what came to be a provisional currency issue! The talk by Mike will be bolstered by actual notes, a PPT aid and a quiz with a prize! Image below is courtesy of Mike. Some members will recall he displayed the note at our last Stone Road Mall days. Scott Douglas says he'll dig out his old Nehru jacket for this presentation!

Lynda Hammond contacted your Editor on June 29th, 2015, to advise this sad news about our member (and dealer) Harold "Ham" Hammond. "Unfortunately Ham is in the hospital, and the prognosis is not good. He had two bad falls, both accidents, but has not been out of bed for two weeks." Lynda was contacting clubs that Ham is a member of, to remove his name from newsletter mailing lists. Lynda and Harold have been long-time sustaining donors for Hospice Waterloo Region, and both have contributed to the community in many ways over the years. Many of us have seen Ham as a fixture at the St. Jacobs Farmer's Market over the years, and at most local coin shows and club meetings. We wish Harold a speedy recovery! This token your Editor acquired in July 2015 from Colonial Acres Coins. The obverse is One Adult Admission to the Calgary Zoo (Alberta), and the reverse is 1867–1967 Canada's Centennial since Confederation. See page 3 for another unusual example of a '1967CCCC' collectable.

Club Report & News reported by Mike Hollingshead*Here's SWCS July 8, 2015 Draws and Accolades:

Ernie Blair took home $20 as the winner of our Members' Attendance draw. Next month will be for $5. Congratulations Ernie, looks like you had some extra loot to invest in auction items. Incidentally Ernie had the other half of E&L Holdings at the bourse table. A big welcome back to Linda Blair who has recently retired from a volunteer Royal Canadian Legion position that kept her from us for too long.

The King Arthur's Treasure contained a 135-item equivalency and was won by Mel Brown. Mel had a great night at SWCS as he added to his foreign collection from the auction, too.

The Door Draw was a 50-50 and $40 was pocketed by Clive Cresswell (who joined our club in Dec. 2014) who chauffeured founding member and father-in-law Robert Zmija to the meeting. Maybe being a nice guy does pay off!

Members enjoyed a refreshment break courtesy of the club. Members and guests are welcome to enjoy our refreshments at no cost to them. Mel Brown always has our coffee, soft drinks, cookies and treats ready for our break.

Member Charlie Turton brought in a large tub of sour gummies which brought some amusing faces to the crowd.

We do thank SWCS member Dwayne Spears for his continued contribution of ground coffee to the club. Dwayne says he is a shy guy but his generosity shines through in a number of ways from providing coffee for our breaks and always being first on-site at our shows (5:30 a.m. is the norm!) to assist with final table shifting, coffee set-up for the dealers and road sign placement. Thanks Dwayne, you are the best!

Also we want to thank the members who assisted in set-up of the meeting room and clean-up afterward. This is a constantly changing group but July saw Lowell Wierstra vacuuming, Ernie Blair moving tables and chairs, Dwayne Spears on chairs, Len Kuenzig setting up the front of the house and a few more I am sure I missed.

Speakers / Presentations:JULY'S EDUCATIONAL PRESENTATION

Len Kuenzig, Vice-President of the Canadian Centennial Collectors Club (also Director of SWCS, and Secretary-Treasurer for the Canadian Association of Token Collectors, and 1st Vice-President of the North York Coin Club) gave an overview of materials available for collectors. He advised of the existing catalogues of existing material and efforts by club members to update current knowledge of material as more items come to their attention. Len advised selecting a facet of Centennial material to collect as the gamut is too large to assemble meaningful collections of everything. He ended his presentation with an invitation to all SWCS members to join the club. For information about the 1967CCCC speak with either Len Kuenzig or Scott Douglas.

A group of enthusiastic collectors of 1967 medals, tokens and other numismatic items related to Canada's centennial year held the inaugural meeting (attended by Cdn. and U.S. participants) of the '1967 Canadian Centennial Collectors Club' (1967CCCC) at the 2014 RCNA convention in Mississauga. "With the 150th Anniversary of Canadian Confederation in 2017 just around the corner, the timing is right for organizing collectors of centennial medals and tokens," said Paul Johnson, one of the interested collectors spearheading the club. The club is focused on bring 1967 material together in an organized manner. One of the main topics on the horizon is the preparation of a new book on Canadian Centennial medals and tokens (it's been over 40 years since Jack Robert's landmark book Canadian Centennial Medals and related items was issued.

Jeff Fournier explained, "Brian Thomson's last book on the subject was released back in 1996 and since then, most of us collectors have been collecting on our own with Thomson's and Robert's publications as our guide and / or corresponding / meeting with a small handful of other like-minded individuals.

Len Kuenzig is another Centennial collector who worked hard to make the inaugural meeting a reality. He has been giving presentations since at conventions, shows and clubs to promote membership in the CCCC.

Many Canadians don't realize that other countries also issued coins and medals commemorating Canada's Centennial, e.g. this 39mm / 1.5" medal from Israel, issued by the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corporation. The medal is made of a copper-nickel alloy, and there was a total minted of 50,366.

Joseph Hooper

Monument Maker and Numismatist

Did You Know... that Joseph Hooper of Port Hope, Ontario was one of several early Canadians who played a prominent role in the establishment of the American Numismatic Association? Hooper would eventually become the first Canadian President of the ANA in 1898.

Joseph Hooper was born in Plymouth, England February 19, 1833. He moved with his family to the United States (Detroit) in 1851 and a short time later settled in Port Hope, Ontario. Hooper operated a monument and stone business in Port Hope, Ontario for about 30 years. Many of the gravestones in the Port Hope cemetery were created by Hooper.

Hooper sold his collection in New York City (July 21-22 and October 6, 1892) through well known American coin dealer Edouard Frossard.

In the 'Numismatist' of 1892 a fellow collector was noted as commenting;

“ Mr. Hooper is the type of the true numismatist; one who loves the science for the science. His greatest delight is the study and arrangement of his fine cabinet of coins and medals, and he is ever anxious, that, that which gives him so much pleasure should be shared by others. He has given several highly successful numismatic exhibitions for charitable purposes, and does much to awaken an interest in the science with the young and old. Painstaking and methodical, he is filled to the brim with enthusiasm in the study.”

Joseph Hooper was one of several early Canadians who played a prominent part in the establishment of the American Numismatic Association. Hooper was the first Vice-President (1891) before becoming the President of the ANA from 1898-1901. This was a very critical stage of the organizations development. Hooper wrote a continuing series in the 'Numismatist' entitled "Numismatic Foundation Stones." In 1892, through those pages, he suggested that the ANA should compile a listing of prices from various past auction sales so that values of coins in various condition could be determined. It was at this time Hooper also proposed an obverse and reverse design for an ANA medal. The obverse incorporated the legend 'De Profundis' (out of the greatest depth) under a volume titled Ancient History on which stood a lighted student's lamp. This design was immediately embraced and is the ANA symbol in use today.

Joseph Hooper retired from business around 1910 and moved to Rochester, N.Y. where he died in the spring of 1919 at the age of 86.

- Joseph Hooper, 1st Vice-President.

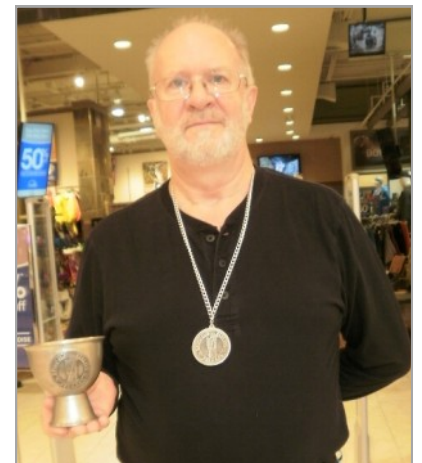

An interesting memo from Pritchard and Andrews to Joseph Hooper certifying that all of the tokens struck for him are in fact in his hands.

The need for this reassurance would likely be as a result of some Ottawa numismatists who were known to have ordered small numbers of off metal strikes of some of the tokens produced by Pritchard and Andrews for the purpose of 'trading' with other collectors. Hooper was keenly aware of this practice and as the letter would intimate wanted to be sure his token issue did not fall victim to this practice.

National Lancers Medal

This is an 1854 Boston Militia Unit "National Lancers" Silver Shooting Medal. Lancers were light cavalry that carried a nine-foot lance with a sharp finial designed to kill infantrymen. Lancers were the elite Polish and French cavalry who earned a reputation in Napoleon's army as shock troops. The National Lancers was formed in 1836 to serve as the city cavalry of Boston. The unit has remained active until today, without interruption, to this day, having served in the Civil War (Companies C & D 1st Mass. Cav.), as well as World Wars I and II. This 1.7 ounce medal is 2.5 inches by 2.75 inches high with scroll engraved suspension loop. The obverse displays a 3/8 inch wide chained border of acanthus leaves, with the central theme of a mounted lancer wearing the unit's distinctive uniform. Obverse: a scroll work riband at the top displays the unit's motto, "Union Liberty and the Laws." Reverse: an identical border with the legend "National Lancers / Awarded to / for 2nd best Shot / at Target practice / September 20th / 1854." Beautiful medal with needle sharp details and fascinating engraving in the style of the early 19th century. This medal recently sold by an auction house, went for over $2,500 U.S.

World Coin Necklace

Somebody took 14 world coins (1940-1980s) and plated them with 24k Gold to create this dangling charm necklace.

The Official Gaming Coins Of The World's Great Casinos

In the summer 2015 Colonial Acres Coins Auction (which ended 6 p.m. Sunday, July 12) there was quite a battle for the green set of The Official Coins Of The World's Great Casinos. Your Editor stopped bidding when they hit $400, the final hammer fell at $490. When these were promoted back in 1978, this advertisement appeared in many world newspapers. It tells us the following:

The Casino at Baden-Baden, the San Remo in Italy, Crockford's Club in London, Castle Harbour in Antigua, the Casino de Paradise in Nairobi, Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, the Casino aboard the luxury liner E II — These are the great casinos of the world. Glistening palaces of fortune where millions are made — and lost — overnight. Exotic places of intrigue and romance where aristocrats and adventurers, moguls and movie stars, princes and potentates come to try their luck. Here, glamorous women bedecked in diamonds mingle with oil sheiks and professional gamblers — and hushed conversation in many languages provides a steady under-current to the clicking of dice and the shuffling of playing cards. The most universally-recognized symbols of the world's great casinos are the chips which they issue regularly for play at their tables. Not as well-known, however, are the precious metal gaming coins that casinos often use for private play. Such gaming coins are distinctive — because they bear unique designs that capture the special character and the ambience of the casinos they represent. The Franklin Mint, which is the world's largest private mint, is now striking a number of privately-issued silver gaming coins for the world's great casinos. These silver coins are struck in circulation quality for use by the casinos. In addition, an extremely limited number of Proofs are minted — for presentation by the casino to distinguished patrons. These individual Proofs are not circulated, and only a very limited number are ever minted for any one casino. Therefore, they are extremely difficult to come by. But now, The Franklin Mint — with the express permission of the individual casinos — is assembling a collection of Proofs of these sterling silver gaming coins. And the mint is able to offer complete Proof Sets to collectors. These Proof Sets — comprising 25 silver gaming coins from as many leading casinos — are available on a limited basis only and strictly by subscription from The Franklin Mint. Each silver gaming coin has an established face value and is redeemable at the casino of issue. While the face value differs for each gaming coin, the average face value equivalent to $25 U.S. at current exchange rates. Each gaming coin bears an original design that symbolizes the casino issuing it. For example, the Colon International Casino gaming coin depicts an ancient Spanish galleon. The gaming coin of the Casino de Paradise in Nairobi features a majestic lion's head. The Spielbanken Austria gaming coin portrays the beautiful flying goddess of fortune. Not only are the designs of these gaming coins different — but the shapes and sizes vary throughout the collection as well. Furthermore, the edge of each gaming coin will bear a unique reeding pattern, which will distinguish that casino's gaming coin for security purposes. Although these sterling silver Proofs will be redeemable — at face value — at the casinos themselves, it is unlikely that anyone would ever want to redeem them. For they are likely to be far more desirable as collector's treasures — possessing as they do both uniqueness and rarity. The issue price for each solid sterling silver Proof is just $35 — a rather modest premium for a limited edition Proof strike, over the average face value of $25. And a custom designed presentation case will be provided at no added charge. These silver Proof gaming coins will be issued at the rate of one each month, and each will be accompanied by a specially-written commentary describing the casino it represents. And a Certificate of Authenticity, attesting to the official status of each gaming coin and its limited edition Proof status, will also be included. All subscriptions applications for The Official Gaming Coins of the World's Great Casinos must be entered no later than October 31, 1978 — the world-wide deadline for this collection. After that date, these official gaming coins will never be offered again anywhere in the world. To subscribe, mail the application below directly to The Franklin Mint, Franklin Center, Pennsylvania, by October 31st.

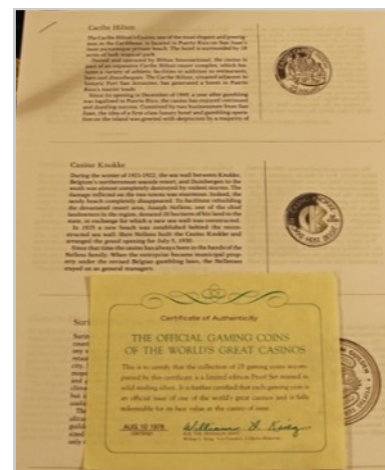

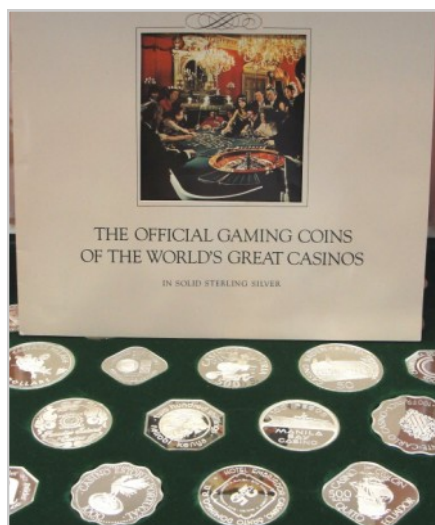

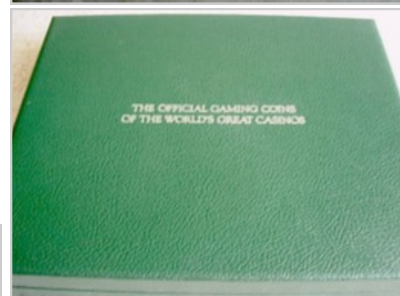

Now The Franklin Mint actually issued two series — the first in 1978–1980 (green display case) and the second (red display case) in 1986–1988. The “red set” is much rarer than the “green set” which has a 2-star rarity. Individual tokens from these sets are also sometimes seen. Each sterling silver set (green or red) weighs a total of 17 ounces (bullion value about $500). Now on Monday, July 13 (day after the auction closed) silver was at an average of $24 an ounce. As each coin has a average face value equivalent to $25 U.S., then the set's face value is $625 U.S. Now researching auction house catalogues and dealer sites, it appears the green set traditionally sells on market in a range of $550-800 U.S. and the red in a range of $850-1200 U.S. So it appears your Editor dropped out too soon, should have hung in there up to $625 (face value).

Volume 18, Issue 2, Wellington Circular

Now the rarer red set of 25 Sterling Silver Official Gaming Casino Coins Proof Set is a case measuring 13.5" x 11.25" x 2". These coins took collectors 3 years to accumulate, and since each was $35 U.S., the total investment was $875 for the set. Same price for the green set, so it would appear that if you subscribed, you likely lost money when you eventually sold your set, and had to settle for face value, bullion or slightly over. So in Colonial's auction the price was $490 (before buyer's premium, taxes, and shipping), or 56% of the original subscription and 12% BELOW face value. Kind of like a lot of RCM products, often unless it's a rarer collectable, you can buy the products at shows for well below the mint's original issue price. Your Editor has even purchased some $20 for $20 coins BELOW face value.

Now the green set coins measure from 1.75" diameter (Caesars Palace, Baden-Baden, Crockford's and Monte-Carlo) to 1.25" diameter for the smaller ones. The casinos featured along with the value on the coin:

- Antiqua Castle Harbour Casino 25 Dollars
- Aruba Rusino Casino Caribbean Hotel 50 Guilder
- Austria Casino 500 Schillings
- Bahamas Paradise Islands Casino 25 Dollars
- Belgium Casino Knokke 1000 Francs

- Turkey Istanbul Hilton 500 Lira (scalloped)
- United States of America Nevada—Caesars Palace (Las Vega) 25 Dollars

Volume 18, Issue 2, Wellington Circular

Any coins in the red set from the same casino in the green set, is a different design so a collector would have no duplication if subscribing to both the green and the red sets. Now the red set consists of sterling silver gaming coins from:

- Desert Inn (Las Vegas)
- Casino Zandvoort (Netherlands)
- Deuville (France)
- Baden-Baden (Germany)
- El Embajador
